Stampede Sprung on Bookmakers, Forcing Them to Cut the Odds.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.-The Thornton stakes again passed into histery at Oakland today and Preservator has his name enrolled on the roster. Wire In was the even money chance and after setting the pace for a mile and a half Jockey Williams was more tired than the horse. He was so weak he could hardly hold the horse's head. Preservator then took the lead and practically walked home. The real contest was for the place and the favorite almost lost that to Ninespot. Time, 7:324.

Tip Out on Byronerdale.

Byronerdale won the second race, a two-mile event, as he pleased. There was a stampede on the winner, his odds being cut down considerably. Value of Athletic Eggs.

Value of Athiette Eggs.

LONDON, March II.—A record time rowed today by the Cambridge University crew in a practice trial for the Oxford boat rare has raised a curtous discussion. The Cambridge crew was supposed to be a rather interior one until the record was made. It appears that the crew has been largely dieted on eggs, which the Oxford carsing are inclined to habeo, and hence a hot discussion has arisen as to the value of eggs in athletic training.

on the important subject of constructing the canal. The committee held many sessions asked many questions and it meemed that there was a desire to get at the facts as to what had been done in the past, but no particular attention was paid to the practical question of type of canal, government of the canal zone and the conduct of business relating to the general management. Finsily the members pulled themselves up with a round turn and began inquiring about the practical questions involved with a view of bringing out facts when which to base legislation. But even at the rate they are proceeding it will be some time before the legislation is perfected. If Congress should adjourn about May 1, the date fixed by the leaders of bath houses as very desirable, the canal legislation will be in the shape of riders appon appropriation bills. In connection with the proposed canal legislation, it is rather interesting to note that the House committee which deals with canal matters, interstate and foreign commerce, has not taken up the matter at all, but has occuried likely with other subjects. Should the Senate pass a bill no doubt the House committee would consider it without delay. The present outlook, however does not indicate any great anxiety to change the present conditions relative to canal work.

MAY CHANGE LENGTH OF COURSE IN ROWING

Four Miles Considered Too Realizes Futility of Crusade on His Feat Feature of First In-Long for College Oarsmen; Coaches Agreeable.

Tribune Special Sporting Service.

NEW YORK, March 17 .- Every year, as the rowing season approaches, there is a demand from certain quarters that the Varsity races, both at Poughkeepsie and New London, shall be reduced from four miles to three, many persons believing that the strain of the fourth mile is too much for the oarsmen to endure.

Coach Courtney Favors Change.

The fact that Coach Courtney and Coach Goodwin of Cornell and of Co-Coach Goodwin of Cornell and of Co-lumbia, respectively, two of the three colleges which form the Intercollegiate Rowing association, have come out since June last in favor of the change, is ta-ken to indicate that the matter will soon be brought before the board of stewards for a decision. Although Coach Ward of Pennsylvania, the third college in the as-sociation, has not ventured an opinion. It is thought that he is not opposed to the three-mile race. Probably No Action This Week.

Probably No Action This Week.

No action will be taken this year, however, by the board of stewards of the Poughkeepsie regatta, as the invitations to Wisconein, Syracuse and Georgetown have already been cut out Whether the question will be taken before the board another year remains to be seen. Six years ago the stewards considered the change and voted to maintain the four-mile race. The present board consists of the same men who six years ago voted against the change, with the exception of Mr. Frank Irvine of Cornell, who has succeeded Fred Colson of the same college. The vote of the stewards in 1960 settled the question for the time being, and they have not yet been obliged to reconsider the matter. Courtney's stand may bring it to a head again, however.

It is believed that he prefers to ride as a free lance instead of being tied to a stable that may turn out to be devoid of first-class racing material. Lyne has not as yet made any definite decision about the date be will go East, but at present the indicaions are that he will return to Kentucky for the Lexington and Louisville spring meetings.

Arthur Redfern, who came to New Orleans to reduce for the approaching season by riding the Shields's horses when possible, is already down to 11 pounds. This is three of four pounds lower than he expected last summer to be able to do so early in the spring, and it would indicate that the crack rider will be able to accept mounts at 110 pounds or even less during the coming season. He concluded 'Legitimate sport can exist without gambling. We would like to wipe out gambling altogether if possible, but if it can't be suppressed it must be regulated. We don't want to make a crusade, but to restrict betting. The pool room interests are behind the anti-race-track betting bill. It has been inspired by them."

Phil Dwyer on Subject. Philip J. Dwyer an important member of the Jockey club, is quoted today as having declared fast night that the clut had no agree-ment with the cirgginen. He said the propo-sition was ridiculous. August Belmont could not be interviewed. The Jockey cibb's actor-ncy, Joseph B. AMERICAN FORK WEAKENS.

Not Satised With Conditions Under Which Salt Lake Will Play.

Special to The Tribune

AMERICAN FORK, Utah, March 17—The typollo barket-ball term of this place, who accepted the open challenge of the Y. M. C. A. of Salt Lake City, are not entirely satisfied with the conditions under which the Y. M. C. A. team desire to play. They want to play but one game, and that to be played in Salt Lake and on their Boors. This the local team will not do unless the Christians are willing to play two games, in order that one may be olived here, and thereby give each equal advantage. Or they are willing to meet the Salt Lake seam, on a neutral floor. In the event that the Y. M. C. A is willing to play two games, the local team would pay all expense which would result in their coming here. ial to The Tribune.

These are the only terms that the local as-prents are willing to play under, and they hope the Salt Lake basket-ball team will re-consider.
